YOU WILL NEED:

- 10” Foam ring
- Pair of 5 7/8” foam circles
- Half of a 6” foam sphere
- 80 ct. 1” ornaments
- 50 ct. 40mm ornaments
- 1-1/2” Ribbon
- Hot glue gun and glue sticks
- Tacky glue
- Paint brush or foam brush
- 3/16 Dowel rod
- Glitter
Cut the dowel rod into three 3” pieces. Insert one piece into each of the pair of 5 7/8” foam circles. Insert the third piece into the bottom of the foam ring.

Remove, dab with hot glue, and then re-insert the dowel rods in place.
Wrap the ring.

Align the two foam circles over the ring and insert. Remove, but do not glue yet.

Use the ribbon to wrap the foam ring, applying hot glue every few wraps. Leave space around the dowel rod and ear holes.

Optionally, the ring could be coated in glitter instead.
Coat the foam circles in glitter.

Apply a generous layer of tacky glue to the foam circles and coat with glitter.

TIP: Once dry, mix equal parts tacky glue, water, and glitter and use the foam brush to apply a layer to the foam circles. Once dry, this will stop the glitter from shedding.

Use hot glue to attach the finished circles to the foam ring.
Attach the larger ornaments to the ring.

Begin by hot gluing a row of 40mm ornaments spaced out around the outside and inside of the ring. Leave space around the dowel rod to attach to the half sphere base.

This example uses 13 ornaments along the outside and 8 along the inside.
Attach the smaller ornaments to the ring.

Glue a row of 1” ornaments in between the larger ornaments. Do this for both the outer and inner ring of large ornaments.

This example uses 14 small ornaments along the outer ring and 8 for the inner ring.

Glue 2 small ornaments between the outer ring and dowel rod, leaving a 1 1/2” gap on each side of the dowel rod.
Fill the remaining space with ornaments.

Use the remaining ornaments to fill any remaining space on the foam ring. Once glued, flip and glue ornaments to the other side of the ring.
Prepare the base.

Use the same technique in Step 3 to apply glitter to the half of the 6” foam sphere.

Once, dry gently press the dowel rod of the foam ring into the center of the base. Remove, dab with hot glue and then re-insert. Gently hold until the glue dries.

For the final touch, tie the Disney ornament of your choice to the inside of the centerpiece.
