Contest Winners will be issued a Form 1099 in the amount of the actual retail value of the Contest Prize. Disney will remit directly to the IRS income tax withholding on prizes that Contest Winners may claim on their personal income tax returns. All federal, state, and local laws and regulations apply. Contest Winners will not be entitled to the difference between the approximate and actual retail value of the Contest Prize awarded, if any. Contest Winners' guests must also execute and return Publicity/Liability Releases, as allowed by law, within the stated time period. Sponsor reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to disqualify and select an alternate potential Contest Winner who submitted the next highest rated Contest Submission in the event that: (a) a potential Contest Winner is unreachable; (b) the Contest Prize notification email or letter is returned as undeliverable or is not responded to; (c) a potential Contest Winner fails to provide Sponsor with satisfactory proof of age, identity, and residency; (d) a potential Contest Winner fails to execute and return the required Affidavit of Eligibility/Compliance (including, without limitation, providing his/her respective Social Security Number for tax purposes) or a Publicity/Liability Release by the specified return date, regardless of the cause of such failure; (e) a potential Contest Winner declines acceptance of the Contest Prize; or (f) Sponsor makes the determination that a potential Contest Winner has not complied with these Official Rules.
